About SOS Children's Villages Illinois

SOS Children's Villages builds families for neglected, abandoned and other vulnerable children in 134 countries, including the United States. SOS Children's Villages International (SOS-Kinderdorf International), the parent organization under which SOS Children's Villages Illinois operates, began in Europe in 1945 after World War II; today, it is the largest non-denominational child welfare agency in the world.

In Illinois, SOS Children's Villages provides sibling group foster care, where children receive care and support from a full-time, professionally trained foster parent. SOS Children's Villages Illinois runs four sites including: an 18-home Village in Lockport, Illinois; a 17-home Village in the Auburn Gresham, Englewood neighborhood and a 14-home Village in the Roosevelt Square community of Chicago; and Casa Tepeyac, a short-term residential facility located in the Back of the Yards neighborhood of Chicago.

SOS Children's Villages Illinois, founded 25 years ago, provides a stable home in a supportive, community environment designed to help children in need grow into caring, productive, and self-reliant adults. The SOS Children's Villages model differs from traditional foster care in emphasizing the following four components: 1) Children live together with their siblings, 2) Children receive care and support from a full-time, professionally-trained foster parent, 3) Children grow up in private, single-family, 4) Children are supported by the Village, designed as an intentional community of care.
